

Manual Preparation Example

Preparation of Japanese Technical Manual

1. Production Process Flow

2. Deliverables

The PDF printing file is sent to a print shop.

[Remarks]

- Writing is executed by professionals with extensive domain experience. When feasible, operational verification is conducted on the customer-supplied product as the manual is written.
- Illustrations are created by reprocessing customer-provided CAD data (dxf) or Illustrator files. Almost perfect illustrations can be created by using the original design data.
- The draft is sent to the customer in PDF format.
- Using our internet server, data can be sent and received by e-mail, ftp and customer-dedicated website. In addition, the project schedule can be posted to the web for a realtime progress report.
